SEYMOUR, INDIANA, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 30, 1916

PRICE TWO CENTS

PRESENT COUNCIL MAY FIX SALARIES

Ordinance May be Passed Early in January Before Prospective Candidates Announce.

TALK OF REDUCTIONS HEARD

Proposed That Departments of City Engineer and Street Commissioner be Combined.

Because the prospective candidates for city offices who will go before the voters in the primary on March 6 must file their intention to become candidates not later than February 5, it is probable that the city council will pass the ordinance fixing salaries for the next administration at a meeting early in January. Under the old law governing city elections the nominations were not made until sometime in September at the earliest and the salary ordinance has heretofore been passed before the first Monday in September. Under the law the retiring council is required to fix the salaries for the next administration and the amounts cannot be altered during that term.

The law states that the salaries shall be fixed "before the first Monday in September," but as interpreted by members of the present council that does not mean that they shall be fixed "on" the first Monday in September. Therefore, according to the interpretation they can be decided upon at any time during the year, and accordingly it is expected that the ordinance will be passed sometime in January. It is highly probable that it will be presented at the next meeting.

It is pointed out by city politicians and prospective candidates that candidates would not desire to get in the race for office with the expectation of having the salaries now paid materially reduced. Particular interest is manifested in the salary ordinance in view of the recent statement of Councilman C. H. Ahlbrand, chairman of the finance committee, that several changes might be made. In outlining the financial condition of the city before the council he suggests that the salary of the mayor might be reduced as the position was largely honorary.

It is known that prospective candidates or those who might be inclined to make the race for nomination

BONUS FOR EMPLOYEES OF THE WELLS-FARGO COMPANY

Announcement is Also Made That Employees Will Receive 5 Per Cent Increase in Salary.

All the gloom and worry resulting from the holiday rush has been chased away at the local office of the Wells-Fargo Express Company by announcement that all the salaried employees will receive a raise of five per cent. in wages and will get a bonus of an amount equal to one month's salary during the coming year. The bonus will benefit all employees who have been in the service of the company for a year or longer. The announcement came wholly unexpected and as a result the callers at the office today were greeted with an unusually cheerful salute. The three employees here who will be benefited are D. W. Lewis, route agent, Ernest Amick, agent, and Miss Grace Love, clerk. Miss Love went into the service of the company last March and will receive three fourths of the month's salary in addition.

The bonus will be paid in four equal installments on January 1, April 1, July 1 and October 1. The notice explaining the increase in salary states that it will be effective for at least one year and probably longer. The bonus is given in appreciation of the services of the employees. On Thanksgiving day all the employees received a dressed turkey from the company so they feel that they have been exceedingly fortunate this year.

Ray Russell, a private in Company K, stationed on the Mexican border, has been promoted to the rank of Sergeant, according to word received by his mother, Mrs. James Russell, East Second street.

NEWLY ELECTED COUNTY OFFICIALS ARE SWORN IN

Oath of Office Administered This Afternoon so There Would be No Delay Monday.

Oath of office was formally administered to the county officials who were elected at the November election, by County Clerk Willard Stout this afternoon. The new officials and those who will enter upon their second terms were sworn this afternoon so they would be ready to enter upon their duties early Monday, January 1st.

Sheriff Harvey L. McCord will move to Brownstown early in the month. He has announced the appointment of Henry Smith, of Redding township, as "riding" deputy of Jackson and Redding townships. Mr. Smith will be the only riding deputy under the present plans although the sheriff will have the appointment of deputies to serve writs and subpoenas. None of these has been named. Robert White, deputy sheriff, went to Brownstown with his chief and Mr. Smith to be sworn into office. Mr. Smith has a wide acquaintance in the townships and is well qualified for the position. The compensation of riding deputy depends upon the services rendered.

DEPUTY CLERK OF CIRCUIT COURT TO QUIT POSITION

Miss Mary Manion Files Resignation and will Resume Course in Business College.

Miss Mary Manion, the efficient deputy clerk of the Jackson circuit court, has filed her resignation with Clerk Willard Stout and surrenders her place in the court house this afternoon. She will resume her business college course in Indianapolis shortly after the first of the year. She entered business college before taking the position of deputy county clerk and desires to complete her training in that course. Miss Manion has served as deputy clerk under two administrations and has been a capable and efficient employee. She possesses a pleasant, courteous manner and was well qualified for the position. She was thoroughly familiar with all the details of the clerk's office and during the time she has served in that capacity she has made many friends throughout the county. Clerk Stout has not yet appointed a successor and for the present will look after the work himself.

RIDER PACKING COMPANY ENTERTAINS EMPLOYEES

Crothersville Canning Concern is Host to Four Hundred of Its Employees and Growers.

The Rider Packing Company of Crothersville was host today to four hundred of their employees and growers at a banquet which was served at the high school building. An elaborate menu had been prepared and the occasion proved a most enjoyable affair. After the dinner the guests were entertained with two moving pictures secured especially for the occasion.

The Rider company is experiencing one of the best business years it has ever enjoyed, and the banquet was arranged as an appreciation of the co-operation of its employees and growers. The company is one of Crothersville's largest industries, and is one of the big canning concerns of southern Indiana.

Ice skaters are watching the condition of the river with anxious eyes, hoping for a few days' skating. The old river at Redford is frozen over and with a few more days' cold weather will be in good shape for skating. Several ponds have been furnishing fairly good skating for several days, and have been popular places with the young people during the holidays.

NEW FIRM RECALLS EARLY ENTERPRISE

Shields and Blish Take Over and Operate Grain Elevators at Alert and Cortland.

NAME OF PIONEER MILL HERE

Grain House at Alert has Been Under Management of A. D. Shields for Past Year.

A new business firm just organized here will recall by its name one of the earliest manufacturing enterprises of Seymour.

This new firm, to be known as Shields & Blish, will take over and operate the grain elevator and flour and feed exchange at Alert, as well as the same business at Cortland. The membership of the firm is the Blish Milling Company, the owner of the physical property affected, and A. D. Shields, manager, who will have complete charge of the business done at both the stations named, making his residence at Cortland.

The grain house at Alert has been under Mr. Shields' management for the year past, where he has built up a large and growing trade, giving especial attention to the handling of corn through new methods and markets. Mr. Shields proposes to bring all this experience into the larger and better field at Cortland where it will undoubtedly lead to greater success.

It is interesting to know that the two modernly equipped grain houses

By a margin of only three pins, the Lutheran bowling team last night won the third and deciding contest with the team representing the Seymour alleys, the total score being 2368 to 2365. SENATE DEMOCRATS WILL QUIT FIGHT

Committee of Which E. P. Elsner is Member Reaches Decision at Meeting Friday.

WISH TO AVOID SQUABBLES

See Possibility of Many Stumbling Blocks During Session if Turmoil is Started.

According to an Indianapolis dispatch the committee of Democratic senators appointed to decide the course to be taken by the Democrats in the upper branch of the legislature concerning organization, has reached the conclusion that nothing would be gained by "starting a scrap" and that the fight might be prolonged throughout the entire session with the result that it would be difficult to get through any Democratic measures. Senator E. P. Elsner, of this city, was a member of the committee which met Friday to determine what course should be pursued. Another meeting will be held Tuesday night before the session convenes.

Senators Edward P. Elsner, Walter S. Chambers of Newcastle, D. Frank Culbertson of Vincennes and former Senator C. A. McCormick of North Judson were at the conference, which was held in the office of Attorney General Stotsenburg.

The senators named made up a committee selected at a general conference of Democratic senators several weeks ago to work out a scheme

1917 WAITING NEAR READY TO RECEIVE GREETINGS

Seymour Will Bid Old Year Goodbye and Welcome His Successor Tomorrow Night.

Just around the corner, figuratively speaking, stands little 1917, ready to receive the welcome and greeting that he knows is awaiting his arrival. 1916 is preparing for his departure into eternity and that fact will not be allowed to go by unnoticed on the stroke of midnight Sunday.

Monday will be a holiday in this city. The banks will close tonight and will not resume business until Tuesday morning. The Merchants' Association has also given notice that the stores will be closed during the afternoon Monday. The postoffice employees and city and rural carriers will come in for their vacation Monday. No vacation is given the rural carriers on December 25 on account of the heavy mail and the other employees of the office received only a few hours vacation. The morning collection and delivery of mail will be made as usual. The office will close at 10 a. m.

The usual noisy reception of whistles and bells will likely be given the New Year and the departure of the Old Year. A number of watch parties have been planned. Several churches will hold midnight services Sunday.

ADMINISTRATION HAS NEW COURSE TOWARD MEXICO

Pershing's Forces to be Ordered Back and Commission Will Meet Again.

By United Press.

Washington, December 30—An entirely new policy toward Mexico is virtually completed and under consideration by President Wilson. This plan will take the following course. General Pershing's forces will be ordered back.

Thereafter the Mexican-American commissioners will reopen negotiations. Ambassador Fletcher will be sent to Mexico City and Carranza's representative here will formally be recognized by this government.

These propositions according to all signs this afternoon will be submitted to the American-Mexican commission when it meets Tuesday.

The first two suggestions are Carranza's.

Carranza holds that for him to come to any terms with the United States while United States troops remain on Mexican soil would be construed by his country as having been forced on him.

VILLISTAS REPORTED TO HAVE TAKEN SALTILLO

Division of Army of Bandit Chief Reported Marching Towards Monterey.

By United Press.

El Paso, Tex., December 30—Information tending to confirm the reported capture of Saltillo by Villistas Thursday is in the hands of the United States authorities here today. Upon the approach of the bandit forces a small garrison of government troops joined the Villistas according to advices. A division of Villa's army is now marching towards Monterey it was reported in Juarez today.

Another shakeup in commanders as the result of Villa's success in the north has been announced in Mexico City. Mexican soldiers of the Juarez garrison today are digging trenches on the Mexican side of the border opposite the outposts of the Kentucky national guard. The Mexican commander stated he proposed to protect his soldiers from the fire of the Americans.

COAL FAMINE NOT DUE TO SHORTAGE OF CARS

Sentiment Growing in Favor of Legislation Permitting Governor to Act.

By United Press.

Indianapolis, December 30—Sentiment was growing in official circles today in favor of some legislation which will allow the governor to take drastic steps to relieve the coal shortage in Indiana following the rise of $1 a ton in coal prices announced by Indianapolis dealers yesterday.

Public service commission reports today tended to show that the car shortage was not responsible for the coal famine. Coal companies are either not using cars furnished by the railroads or are shipping outside the state. An embargo on shipments outside of the state is advocated, although at present the governor is not authorized to declare an embargo.

ALLIES DEMAND CONDITIONS OF TEUTON'S OFFER

Entente Powers Formally Reject Germany's Peace Poffer Without Specific Terms.

DENY RESPONSIBILITY OF WAR

Note Insists That England, France and Russia Have Strong Attachment for Peace.

MANY VIOLATIONS CHARGED

Declare Germany Refused to Consider Negotiations in 1914 to Prevent Conflict.

By United Press.

Paris, December 30—The allies today formally refused to enter peace negotiations with Germany without knowing what conditions the Teutonic powers have to propose.

The note of the allies replying to Germany as announced this evening charges that the German proposal appears more like a war measure than a peace proposal.

The allies expressed their resentment of the effort of Germany to place upon them responsibility for the war.

The allies in turn charge the central powers with direct responsibility for the war and refusal to enter negotiations offered by France, England and Russia to prevent it.

The note declared that the allies were just as strong in their attachment for peace now as in 1914 but added:

"After the violations by the central powers and their engagement in war, they cannot end the war at Germany's suggestion without conditions with which to open negotiations."

DIPLOMATIC BREAK IS CLUB FOR PEACE

Administration's View is That This Constitutes Weapon Over Teutonic Powers.

By United Press.

Washington, December 30—The idea of a break with Germany over submarine warfare, will, according to the administration's view, constitute a strong club to force Germany to present a better working basis for peace than she has yet given. The thought that a break must come, if peace maneuvers fail, is spurring President Wilson on, according to a cabinet official today.

The action of Spain in protesting to Germany against submarine activity is regarded as inspired by knowledge of this government's purpose should all hopes of peace vanish. Spain's action is held here to have been taken in the hope that it will impress upon Germany that other neutrals are behind President Wilson's suggestion.

ALLIES' ANSWER TO BE PUBLISHED NEXT WEEK

Reply to German Communication Will Set Forth Answer of the Entente Powers.

By United Press.

London, December 30—The allies' answer to the German peace note has been completed and will be made public in Paris before next Wednesday, it was learned today. Russia's draft of the note was probably in Paris today.

The answer will not only set forth the principles for which the allies are fighting but will contain a general outline of the terms on which England and her allies are willing to negotiate, it was expected today.

The fact that the note will list terms to be demanded of Germany was expected as a result of the awakening within the last few days in England that the German propaganda in neutral nations must be answered.

AN OPEN LETTER

TO THE YOUNG MEN AND WOMEN OF SEYMOUR AND VICINITY.

Dear Friends:

Putting you in the way of success is not simply a cold-blooded proposition of dollar motive. It is a family matter. In accepting your application we not only assume a moral responsibility to see you through to the attainment of your desires, but we regard your success as inseparably associated with our own. If you don't succeed, we don't.

We could not look on your case in a cold, impersonal way, and say, "What do we care? He is paying for it," as we know some schools do. That, of course, as a principle of business, is suicide. But we have pride, sympathy and love of our work, which furnish the inspiration, the desire, and the driving force which impels us to do the utmost toward your success.

When you join us, and become one of our great army of business enthusiasts, there seems to us to be only one possible way in which our efforts to accomplish your success can fail. And that would be an absolute refusal on your part to accept our help.

Your interest in business success will grow by leaps and bounds when you have an opportunity to hear about scores of our boys and girls who are making big money now because of their cooperation with us. And, besides, you can talk with them yourself, because as a student of the Seymour Business College you possess the passport that makes you welcome in business places everywhere.

You'll meet traveling salesmen, managers, government employees, accountants, court reporters, teachers, bookkeepers, stenographers, business men and women, who point with pride to their experience with our school and its service.

To have you come back to us from time to time and tell us of your work and progress, just as several hundred other young men and women are doing, makes us glad and furnishes the motive and incentive to enthusiasm we put into our work. This is what makes life worth living.

If you believe, as we do, that work and study and enthusiasm are necessary to success, we want you as a student, and can guarantee you a good measure of prosperity.

It would be well for you to see us now while we are organizing a new class.

WINTER TERM OPENS TUESDAY, JAN. 2, 1917.

BIG VICTORY WON BY DUMA IN 1917

For First Time in History of Slav Empire People Overthrow Reactionary Premier.

ACTIVITY IN THE BALKANS

By Superior Strategy German Military Staff Get Control of Big Grain Stores.

By J. W. T. Mason, Written for the United Press.

New York, December 30.—Events of the past year have been disappointing to all of the principal European belligerents. The greatest victory of the year has not been won on any of the battlefields, but has occurred on the floor of the Russian Duman.

For the first time in the history of the Slav Empire, the Russian people were able, toward the close of the present year, to act in concert, and to overthrow Premier Sturmer, a well-known bureaucrat and reactionary. The Duma forced a change in the Czar's government by a defiance of the bureaucratic regime that will become one of the great landmarks of the Russian nation's march toward democracy. Compared with the indecisive conflicts on eastern and western fronts, the victory of the Duma stands out as the most positive and resultful accomplishment of the year.

The entrance of Rumania into the war has provided the most dramatic spectacle of the twelve months' conflict. There is every reason to believe that the western allies did not want the Bukarest government to break its neutrality. The chance of a successful German campaign such as followed the belligerent action of the Rumanians, was well realized in London and Paris. But, imperialist desires turned the heads of the Rumanian militarists at a most inopportune time for their own ambitions. They plunged into the war after Russia expended most of her reserve ammunition in conquering Bukovina, and was consequently unable to be of large assistance to the Rumanian army.

Furthermore, the Rumanians outran military discretion by plunging too quickly into Transylvania and by leaving their rear, in Dobrudja, insufficiently protected. An opportunity for the use of high strategy was thus presented to the German General Staff, and in the trial of military genius that followed, the German commanders wholly outclassed their Rumanian and Russian opponents. Thus, an adventure that might have resulted in cutting Teuton communications in the Balkans has ended, for the present, in large material advantage to the Germans who are now in possession of valuable Rumanian grain and oil fields.

The British and French started this summer their combined western offensive, in an effort to demonstrate whether the trenches constructed by the Germans under the most skillfully developed scientific methods, could be overcome by an unprecedentedly intense concentration of artillery fire. The result, up to the end of the year, has tended to show that although fortresses built above ground cannot withstand besiegers guns, defensive tactics underground seem to be superior to any but very prolonged bombardments, which, to be successful, must be confined to small areas.

The French forward movements at Verdun, undertaken while the battle of the Somme was in progress may, however, change future military opinion of the comparative impregnability of trench warfare. How the French made their quick and successful assaults along the Verdun front is not known. The assumption that the Germans were compelled to denude part of their Verdun line of men and guns, is not borne out by the fact that comparatively unimportant sections of the Verdun front have not given way, while the best defended parts are the ones that were broken. The French higher command may have discovered a new flanking system applicable as yet only to the local conditions prevailing at Verdun, but possibly capable of wider development.

Italy's capture of Goritz this year is her most important success of the war. Its effect, however, is partly lost by the advance the Austrians have made in the Trentino districts. Italy more than holds her own on a balancing of accounts, but the year's developments have indicated that the Italian government is not prepared to pay the cost of victory with continuously large casualty lists. The chance of capturing Trieste on these terms has not been shown to be to Italy's liking.

Germany's Verdun campaign brought very serious losses to her during the year, without compensating advantages. The destruction of Teutonic man power in that ill-advised adventure cost General von Falkenhayn his post as Chief of the German General Staff. The promotion of Marshal von Hindenburg to the supreme command was followed by brilliant victories in Rumania.

COMMISSION MAY RESUME BORDER CONFERENCES

Pershing's Troop to Remain in Mexico, But Other Matters to be Thrashed Out.

Washington, Dec. 30.—It is stated that a continuation of the conferences of the Mexican-American joint commission, without regard to the question of withdrawing American troops from Mexico, is proposed by General Carranza in his message refusing to ratify the Atlantic City protocol.

Coupled with this suggestion, however, is a new appeal for recall of the Pershing expedition and a declaration that such action by the United States would permit adjustment of all remaining questions "within a week."

There are now indications that the American members of the commission might be disposed to comply with the request for further conferences on the ground that the United States had nothing to lose by doing so. It was said officially that nothing had occurred to prevent further consideration of other problems of interest to ward Mexico and it is generally understood that so long as northern Mexico is in its present unsettled state Pershing's men will stay where they are.

A copy of the Carranza communication, about which there is now less secrecy was sent to President Wilson Secretary Lane communicated with Dr. J. R. Mott and Judge George Gray, the other members of the American commission and then announced that they would meet here Tuesday to determine whether further conferences shall be held to discuss the various questions at issue other than the withdrawal of American troops or whether the attitude of Carranza has made it impossible for the joint commission to continue its work.

Carranza points out in his reply that there was nothing in the correspondence that led to the creation of the commission, nor in the credentials and instructions delivered to its members that would preclude consideration of the many other subjects which the commission made incidental to those agreed upon in the protocol. In effect, he suggests that the protocol be laid aside for the present and the work of the commission be directed along fresh channels.

WOMAN PULLED UNDER TRAIN

Operator May Die After Loss of Both Legs Crushed by Engine.

Huntington, Ind., Dec. 30.—Mrs. Jennie Anderson, age seventy-one, for more than forty years a telegraph operator for the Wabash railroad, and most of that time stationed at the Huntington office, was pulled under the engine of a Wabash freight train in front of the passenger station and both her legs were severed. Mrs. Anderson was holding an order slip at the side of the train for the engineer as the train was passing and her skirt was drawn by the air against the cylinder head, where it caught, jerking her feet under the wheels.

Mrs. Anderson had been commended several times by high officials on the Wabash for her efficiency as a telegrapher. Mrs. Anderson is not expected to survive the accident because of her age.

R. L. Moseley, of Indianapolis, was here today on his way to Crothersville on account of the death of his sister, Mrs. Walter Lattimore.

COULD NOT WALK

And For Four Years, Could Not Stand Without Support.

Chillicothe, Ohio—"Nothing pleases me more than to speak a word of praise for Cardui, the woman's tonic," says Mrs. Ed Davis, of this town, "for I firmly believe that it snatched me from the grave."

I have been married 14 years, and had two children. After the youngest was born, I was not able to walk, and for four years, I was not strong enough to stand on my feet five minutes at the time, without something to support me.

Nothing seemed to do me any good, until, finally, I commenced using Cardui, the woman's tonic. I only used about four bottles, but, today I am well, can do my work, and walk as far as I want to.

I can never praise Cardui enough, and my neighbors cannot get done wondering at the change in me. You, too, can depend on Cardui, because Cardui is a gentle, harmless, vegetable tonic, that can do you nothing but good.

Prepared from vegetable herbs, Cardui has a specific effect on the womanly constitution, and puts strength where it is needed.

WOULD ABOLISH STATE TAX BOARD

Commission in Report to Governor
Suggests That Board of Control be Established.

BILL TO LIMIT COUNTY RATES

Also Suggested That Tax Agents be Licensed by State—County Assessors to be Appointed.

Indianapolis, Dec. 30.—As a result of the work of the state tax commission a bill establishing a board of tax control and abolishing the state tax board of tax commissioners, a bill containing provisions for licensing of tax agents and two bills fixing the limits of state and county rates at about one-half their present limitations will be introduced at the coming session of the general assembly.

The commission was appointed by Governor Ralston, as provided by the last session of the legislature, to make a report to the governor on tax conditions in Indiana, recommendations concerning the same and bills intended to change the present situation. The bills were presented to him today, it is understood.

The bill providing for a board of tax control would provide for the appointment by the governor of three men, one a qualified tax expert from without or within the state and two other members of opposite political parties. Each is to be commissioned for four years at an annual salary of $5,000, with traveling expenses not to exceed $1,000, also a secretary at $3,000 a year.

The office of county assessor becomes an appointive office under commission from the board. Assessors may appoint eight assistants for each county at a salary of $10 a day.

Many other minor provisions are contained in the bill, which is to be declared in effect immediately after its passage owing to existence of an emergency.

WOMEN TO COURT ARREST

Will Disseminate Birth Control Information in Chicago.

Chicago, Dec. 30.—That information on birth control, already disseminated secretly in Chicago, will be given out publicly and arrest courted as a test has been decided by a gathering of club women, who are acting on the advice of an attorney.

A committee of seven was named to decide upon the method of publicity, opinion being divided as to whether printed pamphlets or a clinic would be the more desirable. Dr. Anna Blount, a physician, offered herself as a sacrifice. She expressed a willingness to give the information publicly as a test of the law.

Lawyers who attended the meeting declared they do not believe a conviction could be obtained in Illinois.

BROTHERHOODS TO DECIDE

Leaders Fear Delay in Adamson Wage Law Litigation.

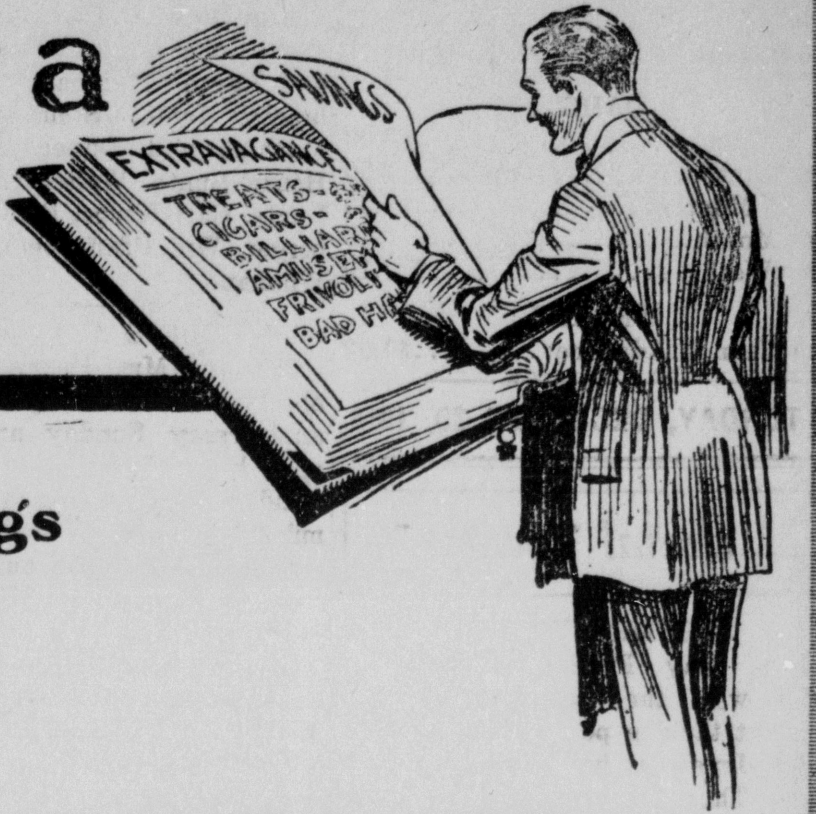

New York, Dec. 30.—The 400,000 railroad employees affiliated with the four trainmen's brotherhoods will decide the next step to be taken by their authorized committee which has been handling their side of the controversy over the operation of the Adamson wage law, it was announced here by the brotherhood chiefs.

The brotherhood leaders, after an unannounced conference here gave out a statement indicating their fear that the pending litigation, together with possible future legal steps on the part of the railroads, would delay indefinitely the investigation by President Wilson's special committee, headed by George W. Goethals.

War Veteran Ends Life.

Wabash, Ind., Dec. 30.—Glenn Gardner, age forty, a Spanish-American war veteran shot and killed himself in front of the home of the parents of his wife, from whom he had been separated for two years. The suicide followed fruitless efforts on Gardner's part to effect a reconciliation.

RELIEF WORKERS DEPORTED

Belgians Not Protected by American Relief Cards, Says Official.

London, Dec. 30.—Germany is now going so far in her Belgian deportations as to arrest and transfer from Belgian soil Belgians engaged in relief work and hitherto protected by the card of the American relief commission, it was declared here by the Belgian ministry of justice.

"Not only are the Germans deporting men who are still employed," the ministry asserted, "not only are they carrying off children from fifteen to seventeen years old, and factory managers, farmers and physicians, but they are now brutally arresting for deportation Belgians engaged in the relief of their own countrymen."

No Wonder Cellars Were Flooded.

Wabash, Ind., Dec. 30.—City engineers who investigated why cellars in north side dwellings were filled with from two to three feet of water from a sewer discovered that a family had been dumping ashes in a man-hole in the street, almost completely stopping up the sewer.

SENATE DEMOCRATS WILL QUIT FIGHT

for organization. A proposal was submitted to the Republican senators that a division of the patronage and committee assignments be made, but the Republicans turned that down at a conference on December 22.

Following the conference a call was sent out to all Democratic senators for a caucus to be held in the office of the Lieutenant Governor in the State House next Tuesday evening. A definite program for action on the opening day of the session will be mapped out by the caucus.

So many stumbling blocks in the way of controlling the affairs of the Upper House permanently, following the inauguration of Edgar D. Bush, Republican, as Lieutenant Governor, appeared in the path of the Democrats that the committee did not relish the idea of going into a political turmoil that might continue throughout the entire session. It is pointed out that the Republicans could refuse to vote for the appropriation of funds to pay the Democratic employees, thereby blocking the remuneration of any employees the Democrats might name.

Many Democratic members of the Senate do not believe they can gain anything through the contest proposed by former Senator Edward C. Eikman of New Palestine to unseat Lem P. Dobyns of Greensburg. Eikman declares that Dobyns's seat in the Senate is not legal because Eikman had not served his constitutional four-year term. Eikman was elected to fill out an unexpired term and asserts his right to remain in the Senate for four years, whereas he has served only two years.

would not be favorably impressed with the position if a material slash were to be made in the compensation. It is stated that the police court constitutes a big part of the city executive's work and on many days requires most of his time. It is further pointed out that the docket fees practically pay the mayor's salary at the present figure of $700. Mayors who served before former Mayor Swope received $800 annually, but beginning with Mayor Swope the others have received but $700. The law provides that the mayor's salary in cities of this class shall not be more than $1,000 and the exact amount is fixed by the council. Inquiry concerning the salaries paid to mayors in Jeffersonville, Columbus, Bedford, Washington and Madison reveals that the average compensation is $1,140 per year which is $440 higher than the salary paid here.

Comparison of the salaries paid here can be made with those in the following cities:

Jeffersonville: mayor, $1,200; clerk, $1,200; treasurer, $800. Columbus: mayor, $1,200; clerk, $1,000; treasurer, $1,000. Madison: mayor, $1,000; clerk, $1,000; treasurer, $1,200. Washington: mayor, $1,000; clerk, $900; treasurer, $700. Bedford: mayor, $1,200; clerk, $600; treasurer, $850.

It has also been suggested and the matter will receive the attention of the council, that the departments of city engineer and street commissioner be combined and that the official receive a bigger salary than either is now paid. It is pointed out that the work of the street commissioner is done very largely under the direction of the city engineer and that the latter could afford to look after it if he were paid a larger salary. He would probably have to have an assistant but it is not believed that the larger salary of the chief and that of his assistant would be as great as the combined salaries of the engineer and street commissioner at this time. Such a change could be made by the council.

Another change that is proposed is that the departments of the city clerk and treasurer be combined, but such a change would have to be made by the state legislature. The clerk now receives $800 a year and the treasurer receives $750. It has been suggested that the official of the combined departments be paid a salary ranging from $900 to $1,200. The legislature, however, would have to make such a change early in the coming session if the salary is to be included in the salary ordinance passed by the council early in January.

RAIL PROSPERITY PREDICTED IN 1917

Transportation Officials See Good Business Year Ahead Even in Event of Peace Abroad.

B. & O. TRADE REVIEW FILED

Receipts Have been Big but Construction Work Has Been Exceedingly Light.

Railroad officials predict that prosperity in America will continue at its present stage at least another year. Those who have studied the factors believe that regardless of peace overtures in Europe, this country will continue its unprecedented industrial and business activity, the outlook pointing to an even greater expansion during the coming year.

In support of this feeling of optimism transportation executives set forth that with the large trade balance in our favor and the accumulation of gold, the era of industrial development may be expected to continue for a long period during which new enterprises will be launched, and new fields of trade opened in every direction. The nation's natural resources and the abundance of raw materials are further factors justifying this belief.

Domestic trade is undergoing a revitalizing, in the opinion of traffic experts who contend that regardless of the outcome of the war, and in view of the steady growth in population, business will continue on its present substantial basis. Export figures as compared with statistics of domestic trade offer evidence which is regarded as conclusive.

The year 1916 stands out in the history of Industrial America as the period during which American initiative reached its pinnacle of success, with earnings, the largest in the history of practically every industry, the railroads taxed to capacity, and labor earning top wages, while working shorter hours than at any time in the history of civilization.

While the railroads have enjoyed the largest earnings in their history during the past year, authorities contend that this does not imply that the carriers have realized their largest measure of prosperity. In support of this, it is pointed out that while the programs of expansion have been carried out, conditions have compelled the companies to issue bonds and other liens against the properties instead of selling stock carrying with it a partnership. To meet business requirements, the railroads have had to purchase equipment at prices representing an advance in some instances of 100 per cent. since the outbreak of war. This was signed by an official of the Baltimore and Ohio who told a group of business men that the freight cars contracted for recently at a cost of $16.00 each, cost double, what was paid for the same equipment bought two years ago. Sharp advances have also been made in the price of locomotives. Another point of interest in respect to this situation, is that these transactions will be reflected in the financial accounts of the carriers over a long period of years, probably after conditions have undergone certain adjustments in other respects, as it is customary for the roads to provide for equipment purchases by security issues.

Few railroads spent during the year a sum equal in proportion to the Baltimore and Ohio for new equipment and betterments. For new locomotives and cars and for rebuilding owned, the road spent approximately $12,000,000. The equipment purchased included 71 locomotives, 50 passenger cars, 7,709 freight cars, 14 pieces of work equipment, and 12 pieces of floating equipment. This brought the average to 23 cars owned per mile of road—a high mark in transportation service—and as a result of the rehabilitation program, the revenue car equipment was brought up to 95.2 per cent. steel-reinforced or steel.

The Baltimore and Ohio built 3 1/2 miles of new lines and also let a contract for 26 miles of additional line which will be placed in operation this year. The line completed extends from Hagerstown to Security, Maryland. The line under construction, will run from Althorretta to Weeksburg, Kentucky, to reach undeveloped coal fields.

A Commercial Development Department was established as a part of the traffic organization under A. W. Thompson, vice-president, and W. H. Manss, with title of assistant to vice-president of traffic and commercial development, in charge of the Commercial development department. The new department reports that through the co-operation of various commercial organizations in cities along the Baltimore and Ohio it has located during the last six months an average of two new industries a day, each industry having direct track connection with the Baltimore and Ohio.

Industrial Surveys of a large number of cities and towns have been or are in the process of completion, with a number of reports on the vast amount of mineral resources found along the Baltimore and Ohio, together with reports on new coal fields available and the agricultural and dairy possibilities. This new department includes an interchange commodity bureau to promote interchange of both raw and finished products between the industries and consumers along the Baltimore and Ohio.

Chronic Catarrh is Curable

Nothing is more distressing to the sufferer and his friends, Chronic catarrh is systemic—That is, it is present throughout the body, though it may manifest itself in a local ulceration.

Only a constitutional treatment will overcome systemic catarrh. Local treatments sometimes help the acute manifestations, but they cannot overcome the systemic disorder.

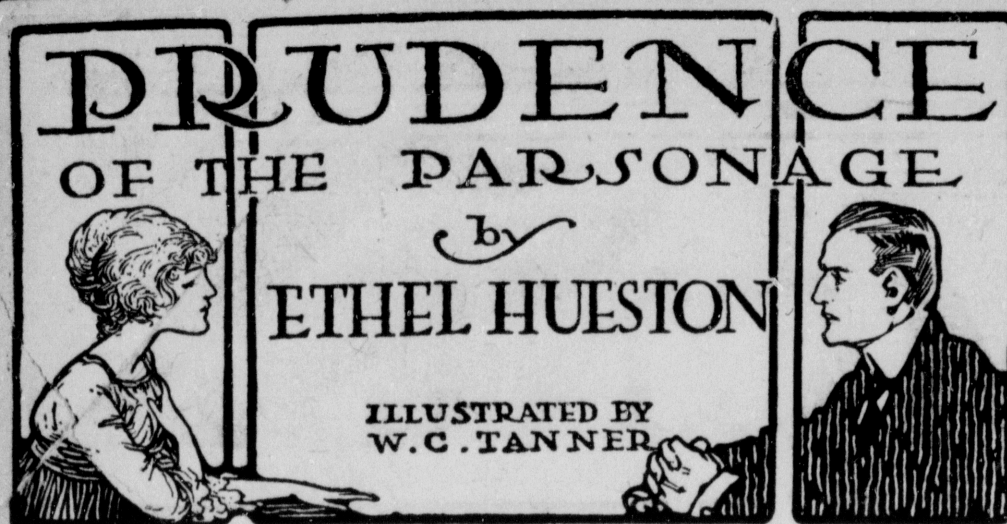

PERUNA Has Helped Thousands

It is a foe to catarrh. The voluntary testimony of thousands establishes that. Peruna benefits in a number of ways. Peruna builds up the digestion, restores the strength, and helps put the system in condition.

Peruna has special value in catarrh. It gives vitality to the system, restores tone to the membranes and enables these to perform their functions. In many cases its benefits begin at once, and it rarely fails when treatment is continued properly.

The Peruna Medical Department will be glad to assist you to overcome this disease. The doctor's advice is free. Don't delay treatment.

CHAPTER II.

The Rest of the Family.

It was Saturday morning when the four young parsonage girls arrived in Mount Mark. The elderly Misses Avery, next door, looked out of their windows, pending their appearance on Main street, with interest and concern. They were Episcopallians themselves, and in all their long lives they had never so much as heard of a widower-rector with five daughters and no housekeeper. There was something blood-curdling in the bare idea.

The Misses Avery considered Prudence herself rather a sweet, silly little thing.

"You have some real nice people in the Methodist church," Miss Dora had told her. "I dare say you will find a few of them very likable."

"Oh, I will like them all," said Prudence quickly and seriously.

"Like them all," echoed Miss Dora. "Oh, impossible!"

"Not for us," said Prudence. "We are used to it, you know. When we dislike people at first sight, we visit them, and talk to them, and invite them to the parsonage, and entertain them with our best linen and silverware, and keep on getting friendlier and friendlier, and—first thing you know, we like them fine!"

So the Misses Avery concluded that Prudence was not entirely responsible. And they wondered, with something akin to an agony of fear, if the younger girls "had it, too!" and when Miss Alice cried excitedly, "Quick! Quick! They are coming!" they trooped to Miss Alice's window with a speed that would have done credit to the parsonage girls themselves.

First came the minister, whom they knew very well by this time, and considered quite respectable. He was lively, as was to be expected of a Methodist minister, and told jokes, and laughed at them! Now, a comical rector—oh, a very different matter—it wasn't done, that's all! At any rate, here came the Methodist minister, laughing, and on one side of him tripped a small, earnest-looking maiden, clasping his hand, and gazing alternately up into his face and down at the stylish cement sidewalk beneath her feet. On the other side was Fairy. The Misses Avery knew the girls by name already—having talked much with Prudence.

"Such a Fairy!" gasped Miss Mill-cent, and the others echoed the gasp but wordlessly.

For Fairy was very nearly as tall as her father, built upon generous lines, rather commanding in appearance, a little splendid-looking. Even from their windows they could discern something distinctly Junolike in this sixteen-year-old girl, with the easy, elastic stride that matched her father's, and the graceful head, well carried. A young goddess—named Fairy!

Behind them, laughing and chattering, like three children, as they were—came the twins with Prudence, each with an arm around her waist. And Prudence was a very little taller than they. When they reached the fence that bordered the parsonage, the scene for a moment resembled a miniature riot. The smaller girls jumped and exclaimed, and clasped their hands. Fairy leaned over the fence, and stared intently at this, their parsonage home. Then the serious little girl scrambled under the fence, followed closely by the lithe-limbed twins. A pause, a very short one—and then Prudence, too, was wriggling beneath the fence.

"Hold the wire up for me, papa!" cried Fairy. "I'm too fat." And a second later she was running gracefully across the lawn toward the parsonage. The Methodist minister laughed boyishly, and placing his hands on the fence post, he vaulted lightly over, and reached the house with his daughters. Then the Misses Avery, school-teachers and elderly, looked at one another.

"Did you ever?" gasped the oldest Miss Avery, and the others slowly shook their heads.

Now, think! Did you ever see a rector jumping a three-wire fence, and running full speed across his front yard in pursuit of a flying family? It may possibly have occurred—we have never seen it. Neither had the three Misses Avery. Nor did they ever expect to. And if they had seen it, it is quite likely they would have joined the backsliders at that instant.

But without wasting much time on this gruesome thought, they hurried to a window commanding the best view of the parsonage, and raised it. Then they clustered behind the curtains, and watched and listened. There was plenty to hear! From the parsonage windows came the sound of scampering feet and banging doors. Once there was the unmistakable clatter of a chair overturned. With it all there was a constant chorus of "Oh, look!" "Oh! Oh!" "Oh, how sweet!" "Oh, papa!" "Oh, Prudence!" "Look, Larkie, look at this!"

Then the eldest Miss Avery closed the window overlooking the parsonage and confronted her sisters.

"We must just make the best of it," she said quietly.

But next door the gray old parsonage was full to overflowing with satisfaction and happiness and love. Everyone has experienced the ecstatic, creepy sensation of sleeping in a brand-new home. The parsonage girls reveled in the memory of that first night for many days. "It may be haunted for all we know," cried Carol deliciously. "Just think, Connie, there may be seven ghosts camped on the head of your bed, waiting—"

"Carol!"

When the family gathered for worship on that first Sabbath morning, Mr. Starr said, as he turned the leaves of his well-worn Bible, "I think it would be well for you to help with the morning worship now. When I finish reading the chapter, Connie, you will make the first prayer. Just pray for whatever you wish as you do at night for yourself. I will follow you."

Connie's eyes were wide with responsibility during the reading of the chapter, but when she began to speak her voice did not falter. Connie had nine years of good Methodist experience back of her!

"Our Father, who art in heaven, we bow ourselves before thy footstool in humility and reverence. Thou art our God, our Creator, our Savior. Bless us this day, and cause thy face to shine upon us. Blot out our transgressions, pardon our trespasses. Wash us, that we may be whiter than snow. Hide not thy face from the eyes of thy children, turn not upon us in wrath. Pity us, Lord, as we kneel here prostrate before thy majesty and glory. Let the words of our mouths and the meditations of our hearts be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, our strength and our Redeemer. And finally save us, an unbroken family around thy throne in heaven, for Jesus' sake. Amen."

This was followed by an electric silence. Prudence was biting her lips painfully, and counting by tens as fast as she could. Fairy was mentally going over the prayer, sentence by sentence, and attributing each petition to the individual member in the old church at Exminster to whom it belonged. The twins were a little amazed, and quite proud. Connie was an honor to the parsonage—but they were concerned lest they themselves should not do quite so well when their days came.

But in less than a moment the minister-father began his prayer. When he said "Amen," Prudence was on her feet and half-way upstairs before the others were fairly risen. Fairy stood gazing intently out of the window for a moment, and then went out to the barn to see if the horse was through eating. Mr. Starr walked gravely and soberly out the front door, and around the house. He ran into Fairy coming out the kitchen door, and they glanced quickly at each other.

"Hurry, papa," she whispered; "you can't hold in much longer! Neither can I!"

And together, choking with laughter, they hurried into the barn and gave full vent to their feelings.

So it was that the twins and Connie were alone for a while.

"You did a pretty good job, Connie," said Carol approvingly.

"Yes, I think I did myself," was the complacent answer. "But I intended to put in, 'Keep us as the apple of thy eye, hold us in the hollow of thy hand, and I forgot it until I had said 'Amen.' I had a notion to put in a postscript, but I believe that isn't done."

"Never mind," said Carol, "I'll use that in mine, tomorrow."

Chairman Henry Invites Financier to Tell What He Knows.

Washington, Dec. 30.—The controversy which has followed Congressman Wood's resolution for investigation of whether any member of President Wilson's official family profited in the stock market because of "inside information" on the president's peace notes, got into semi-official form when Chairman Henry, of the house rules committee, telegraphed to Thomas W. Lawson of Boston to come to Washington and substantiate his published statements that he knew of the so-called leak and his prediction that there would be another.

Mr. Henry announced that he would reintroduce his bill next Tuesday to regulate the New York Stock Exchange.

DODGE BROTHERS MOTOR CAR

You must have noticed what ardent enthusiasts its owners are.

This does not happen here and there—it is a universal condition.

People believe in the car, admire it, and say so, frankly. Owners will tell you that gasoline, oil and tires are the only expense.

This is not merely an advertising expression. It is a fact.

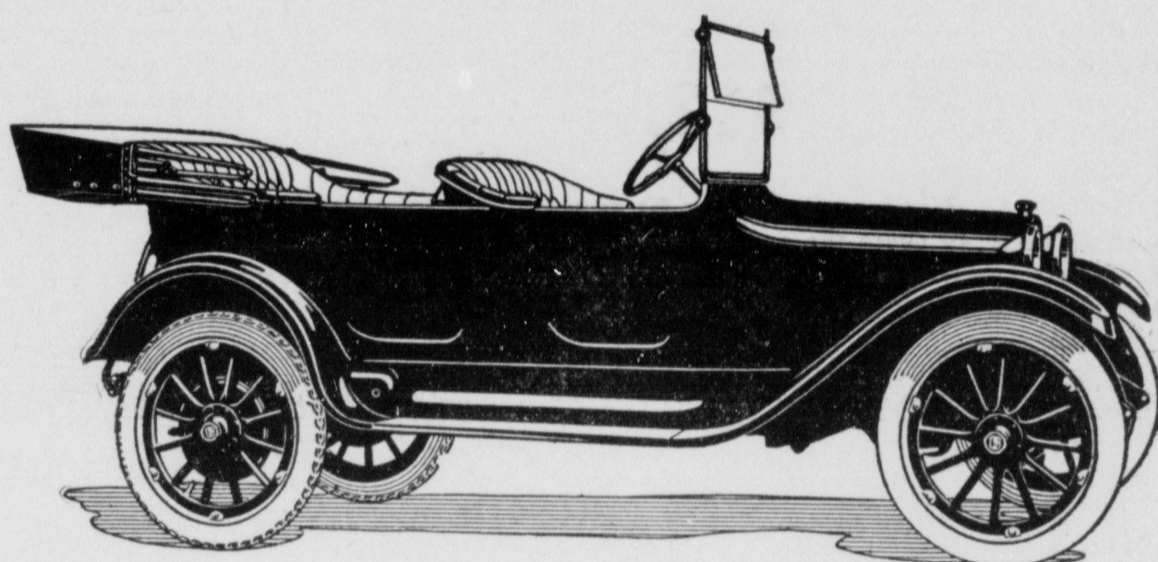

The parts rarely have to be renewed.

The car was fundamentally right from the first and it has simply been passing ever since through a period of progressive—and probably endless evolution.

It will pay you to visit us and examine this car.

The gasoline consumption is unusually low.
The tire mileage is unusually high.

erected at Cortland, one for receiving, storing and shipping wheat, the other for taking in and shelling the fine corn grown in that immediate section, are located on the same site once occupied by the old Cortland flour mill erected many years ago by the late Samuel Holmes long before Seymour had a place on the map.

When "the logic of events" led to the founding of Seymour along in the fifties, one of the first necessities in the eyes of Captain Shields, its founder, was the flour mill which was erected here in 1856 under the firm name of Shields & Blish. This mill originally intended to be only for the convenience of the immediate neighborhood and to bring and hold trade for Seymour, which had been accustomed to go to the already established mills at Newry, Cranetown and Rockford, grew into a merchant mill operated on a twenty-four hour per day basis under the stimulus of the great demand for foodstuffs created by the War of the Rebellion and brought much profit to its owners.

The present Blish Milling Company is the successor of the old Shields & Blish Mill, which was located on High street just directly opposite its more pretentious successor and was destroyed by fire in October 1885.

VEGETABLE CALOMEL

Vegetable calomel, extract of the root of the old-fashioned may-apple plant, does not salivate. As a liver stimulator, it's great. It's a perfect substitute for ordinary calomel (mercury); in fact, it's better, because its action is gentle instead of severe and irritating—and it leaves no mean, disagreeable after-effects. Physicians recognize this and prescribe may-apple root (podyphyllin, they call it) daily.

Combined with four other standard, all-vegetable remedies, may-apple root may now be had at most any druggist's in convenient sugar-coated tablet form by asking for Sentanel Laxatives. If you forget the name, ask for the box that has the picture of the soldier on it.

These tablets are small, easy to take and are really wonderful little performers.

They quickly clean out the poisons that are causing you headache, constipation, sour stomach, biliousness, dizzy spells, bad breath and coated tongue. They are mild. They never gripe. And they are a bowel tonic as well as a cleanser and liver regulator. A 10c box should last one several weeks. A Physician's trial package (4 doses) will be mailed you free if you write mentioning this advertisement. The Sentanel Remedies Co., 802 Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

JACKSON COUNTY LOAN AND TRUST COMPANY

Periscopic Paragraphs

If you didn't do your New Year's shopping early, you still have Sunday left.

Indianapolis' congratulations to Louisville on landing the farm loan bank are about as warm and cheerful as some of the congratulatory messages from the defeated candidates after the election.

Happy Days.—Miss Gala Day and Miss Holiday are home from Anderson, where they are employed as teachers in the public schools.—Fairmount Co., Marion Chronicle.

The University Kansan says that the old-fashioned coed who used to borrow your pencil now carries a fountain pen and never has any ink.

Things must be getting dreadfully dull down at Chihuahua City; the town hasn't been captured or recaptured for a whole week.

According to the preliminary arrangement announcements the inauguration promises to be a tumultuous affair.

Killing Time at Corn Hill.—Lora Vanbibber and wife, A. C. Miller, Harry Luthy and wife and Pearl Orr and wife assisted Dan Ramseyer with butchering Tuesday.—Corn Hill items, Kokomo Tribune.

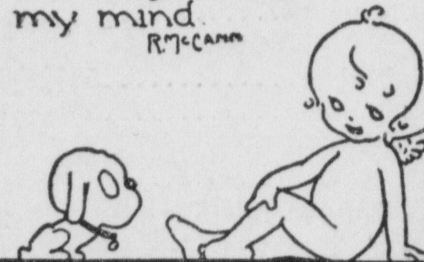

Suggestion to Sporting Editors: Why not run a picture of Les Darcy?

While looking for some light reading the other evening we picked up a copy of the Materia Medica. The M. M. is an innocent looking little book which is used around drug stores. The idea of the author seemed to be to have some fun out of the alphabet, to see into how many different combinations he could arrange the various letters. Any one not acquainted with the alphabet would imagine, after looking through its pages, that there would have to be at least 126 letters to accommodate some of the words found therein, instead of only 26. But here is where the author's great ability is shown; he has evidently picked up the whole alphabet, carefully shuffled them, cut the deck about seven times, sprinkled them broadcast across the page and made, not a word, nor a sentence, but a whole paragraph. None of the letters are slighted, everyone of them gets a chance to show what he can do. If they make good in the first part of the word, they get to come back on the stage in the second, third and fourth acts. Even the X's, Y's, Q's and V's get in on almost every word. For instance, when he wants to say Iodomuth, do you think he says it that way? Well hardly. That doesn't sound near impressive enough; so he spells it this way: Bismuth Oxyiodomethylenedigallate. Sounds better, doesn't it? And looks much better. Then again there is a drug or something of the kind that, we are told, possesses sedative and hypnotic properties. Naturally we would expect something fancy out of a combination like that but we were hardly prepared for the fourteen story display of letters the author worked in on it. We give it to you complete, notwithstanding the high price of print paper: Alphabromisovalerylaminooacetparaphenetidin. There are many others just as good; get yourself a copy and while away the long winter evenings. Pronouncing the words is the best form of indoor exercise we have ever run across.

THE CHEERFUL CHERUB

I used to think I must get rich
But now I'm getting more resigned.
I'm just as happy anyway
I live so grandly in my mind.
